

Terms and Conditions

Meda Health Sales Ireland Ltd invites you to carefully read these Terms of Use. If you proceed to use this website, you agree to do so in accordance with the following terms. Provisions of the Terms of Use do not create any contractual or other right for the user towards Meda Health Sales Ireland Ltd or any of its affiliated companies. Including – for the purpose of these Terms of Use – MEDA Pharma GmbH & Co. KG and all other companies of the MEDA group. Meda Health Sales Ireland Ltd reserves the right to modify, delete, or to make additions to the content of this website at any time without prior notice.

General information

Please note that all information given on this website is for general informational purposes only. In particular, no information contained herein is intended to provide medical advice in any way whatsoever. For advice on specific health problems and/or the use of any drug product presented on this website, please consult with a health care professional.

No warranty

Meda Health Sales Ireland Ltd endeavours to keep this website up-to-date. However, Meda Health Sales Ireland Ltd is not obligated to update this website and does not represent nor warrant the completeness, accuracy and timeliness of the information on this website. Meda Health Sales Ireland Ltd disclaims any and all liability for any damages whatsoever, resulting from or in connection with the use of this website and/or the information contained herein.

Links

This website may provide links to websites maintained and/or controlled by third parties. Meda Health Sales Ireland Ltd is not responsible for the content of such websites.

Country-related information

The information given on this website and on pages of other Meda Health Sales Ireland Ltd companies linked to this website may not be relevant to every visitor: Product names or trademarks may differ from country to country, products may be authorized for sale in one country, but not in another, etc. For further information on the products available in your country, please contact the local MEDA company or your physician.

Intellectual property

All trademarks, trade names, logos etc. (the “trademarks”) contained on this site are owned by or have been licensed to Meda Health Sales Ireland Ltd. The use of these trademarks, of the company name Meda Health Sales Ireland Ltd and of the company logo is strictly prohibited, except as explicitly permitted herein.

Copyright

All contents on this website are subject to the copyright of Meda Health Sales Ireland Ltd or third parties and may only be used under the condition that:

1. such use is only for informational and non-commercial or for personal purposes,
2. the respective content is not modified; and

3. the respective copyright notice appears on all copies made.